Be yourself... Know that there is always someone who cares
We keep waiting for change; you be the change

We are all special but we make each other stronger
It's amazing where you can find a friend
Where is the love in the world? What are we doing to help?
You only need one person to make a difference Finding strength through another's support; be the best you can be
You have a guardian angel; not always the person you might think it will be.
